

The broadcasting services in this country are owned and controlled by too few companies now! Do not weaken the ownership rules. These airwaves belong to the people of the United States, NOT AOL/FOX/Clear Channel/ or any other of the large media conglomerates. Not only that but the proposed changes will cause a reduction in jobs, not something we want to do in today's economy! The bottom line though is I do not want a handful of people deciding what news I will hear and what I will not. Open competition should help keep more information flowing.
